AUDITING

Effective January 1, 2012, PCB recertification moved to an auditing process whereby only those individuals randomly selected will be required to submit documentation of the required recertification training/education hours. PCB will randomly audit 25% of those currently certified in each credential to verify completion of continuing education/training. Certified professionals chosen to be audited will be asked to submit documentation of continuing education/training completed in the appropriate accrual period. The documents must be submitted within 30 days of the date the written request is mailed to the certified professional.

Audits will occur twice per year (every January and July). Those selected for audit must submit documentation of the appropriate number of hours of education/training that they completed in the prior two-year period. Since the audit process is random, individuals may be selected for audit multiple times.

Non-compliance with the required education/training for recertification is viewed as a breach of professional ethics. All those selected for audits who have not received the required education/training within the necessary timeframe will experience the following actions:

- 1) PCB credential will be immediately suspended the day following the 30-day deadline for submitting documentation of recertification of their credential;
- 2) The issue of non-compliance directly violates PCB Code of Rule 5.3 under "Professional Standards".
- 3) Completing all of the requirements for recertification of credentials is a condition of certification. The credential will remain suspended until such time as the certified professional addresses the ethics violation to the satisfaction of the PCB Ethics Committee and seeks reinstatement of said credential. Suspensions for non-compliance with the audited recertification process are a matter of public record and will remain on the candidates' certification history and, as a result, can be accessed by the general public from the PCB website.

Reinstatement includes:

- The audited candidate submitting the required education/training.
- The recertification fee.
- The reinstatement fee.

DO NOT send in copies of your certificates of completions for trainings. These will not be reviewed at the time of your recertification.

PCB APPROVAL is required for all education for recertification, including college courses. If you are not sure if a course or training has been previously approved you may email info@pacertboard.org.

1. Three hours in PCB approved professional ethics and responsibilities as part of the total hours. Acceptable trainings that would meet this requirement include but are not limited to: ethics related to human services, HIPPA, confidentiality, boundaries and mental health law.

GENERAL INFORMATION

1. Recertification record keeping is the responsibility of the certified professional. All recertification documents and application forms should be submitted together. Keep copies of everything submitted.
2. Education for recertification must have been acquired no earlier than two years prior to the applicant's current expiration date.
3. Recertification is considered late if you are mailing it and it is postmarked after your expiration date. Recertification is considered late if you are submitting it electronically and it is after your expiration date. If recertification is not completed prior to the expiration date, it is considered expired.
4. Education not properly verified is not accepted. Proper verification (i.e. certificate, letter of attendance, transcript) must include date of training, number of hours attended, title of training, sponsoring organization, and your name.
5. Education is defined as formal, structured instruction in the form of workshops, seminars, institutes, in-services, and college/university credit courses and distance learning/online courses.

EDUCATION INFORMATION

1. Education that has not been previously PCB Approved must be submitted using the Education Approval Form prior to completing or with the recertification application.
2. College/University course: Three college credits are equivalent to 45 hours. Transcript of the course must be included as proof of attendance at the time of recertification.
3. Trainings, workshops, seminars, and conferences offered by professional associations, treatment providers, governmental agencies, etc.
4. PCB does not accept general staff meetings, supervision, staff rounds, or case management as education.
5. Distance learning/online courses are acceptable.
6. CPR/First Aid, computer trainings/classes and foreign language trainings/classes are acceptable up to six hours.
7. PCB accepts education received outside of Pennsylvania under the following conditions:
 - a. Appropriate documentation (certificate, letter of attendance, transcript) is provided.
 - b. If an out-of-state educational event was approved by an IC&RC member board of that state, no further PCB approval is necessary. Proof of the IC&RC member board approval must be submitted. If these conditions were not met, the certified professional must seek PCB education approval of the training.

EDUCATION PROVIDED BY THE CERTIFIED PROFESSIONAL

A certified professional who provides education to others may receive credit toward their own recertification.

1. The presenter will receive the same number of hours as the participant; and the presentation can be used for credit once in each recertification period, provided the training has received PCB Education Approval. Training provided by a certified professional must also be documented by sponsoring organization/college in the same manner as participant documentation (i.e. certificate, letter of participation).
2. Published work written by the certified professional and published by a professional publishing house may meet up to 10 hours of education. A copy of the published work must be submitted along with an education approval application.

EXPIRATION DATE CHANGE

If you hold multiple PCB credentials, you can request to change the expiration date(s) and recertify your credentials at the same time. Recertification is made easier, as you are able to use the same education (if applicable) for all your credentials. This is optional. The Expiration Date Change Request Form must be submitted with the appropriate fee.

LAPSED CREDENTIAL

A credential is valid for a two year period. If your credential lapses, you have 12 months from your expiration date to recertify. After 12 months, you must re-apply for your credential(s) and complete all the requirements for initial certification.

To renew a lapsed credential:

1. Complete the Recertification Application and meet the educational requirements.
2. Submit the appropriate recertification fee plus the reinstatement fee of $100.

RETIREMENT STATUS

Retirement Status allows any certified individual the ability to retain their certification after retirement from active employment and still receive partial rights and privileges of certification. Partial rights include the use of the appropriate verification initials (CADC, CAADC, CAAC, CPS, CCS, CAAP, CCSM, CCMS, CCJP, CCDP, CCDP Diplomate and CRS) with the word "retired" after them. This is an honorary status not a working credential. Certified individuals with a reciprocal credential under the Retirement Status are not eligible for reciprocity through the IC&RC.

Retirement Status will only be considered for those individuals who have reached the age of sixty (60) and have retired from active full time employment or have become disabled and are no longer employed in the substance abuse and/or behavioral health fields.

Requests for Retirement Status will only be considered for those individuals holding a current and valid certificate. Request for Retirement Status for certification that has already lapsed will not be accepted.

PCB will review written requests for Retirement Status and applicants will be notified of the board's decision. If the request is approved, a new Retirement Status certificate will be issued.

While no continuing education is required, a fee of $60 is required every two years to maintain the Retirement Status.

During the Retirement Status period, the retired individual may use the credential title they hold, provided the word "Retired" follows the initials (example: CADC Retired).

An individual holding a Retirement Status certificate may not reactivate their credential past the 12-month allowable lapse period. Should you elect to return to substance abuse and/or behavioral health employment within 12 months past your active credential's expiration date, you may void the Retirement Status certificate and be reactivated as fully certified. In order to do this, the certified professional must comply with current recertification requirements of education and fees. The $60 retirement status fee may not be applied to recertification. After 12 months past the active credential expiration date, the certified professional must reapply for the credential.

TO APPLY FOR RETIREMENT STATUS: Send a letter requesting Retirement Status, the $60 fee, and documentation supporting your reason. If you wish Retirement Status for a disability, include supporting medical documentation or a letter from your doctor. If you are over age 60 and retiring from employment, please submit a supporting letter from your agency and proof of age. This request must be received while your credential is current.

NAME CHANGES

If, at any time, a professional needs to change their name documentation must be mailed or faxed to the PCB Office. Acceptable documentation includes copies of marriage license, divorce decrees, etc. Names on certificates cannot be changed until documentation is provided.

INTERNATIONAL CERTIFICATES

International certificates are no longer issued automatically and free of charge to reciprocal level credentialed professionals. Instead, PCB will add a seal to your certificate indicating the International status of your certification. Original International Certificates are available for a nominal fee directly from IC&RC.

The International Certificates are: CADC – ICADC, CAADC – ICAADC, CCS – ICCS, CPS – ICPS, CCJP – ICCJP, CCDP – ICCDP, and CCDP Diplomate – ICCDPD.

The International Certificate provides recognition of your status as an internally certified addiction professional. International Certification for counselors is required by the Federal Department of Transportation (DOT) for recognition as a Substance Abuse Professional (SAP).

EXPIRATION DATE CHANGE REQUEST

The use of this form is only required if you have more than one certification with PCB and wish to have them expire at the same time.

Fee: $25 per credential to be changed.

By my signature below, I authorize PCB to change the expiration date of the indicated credential(s) to that of my original credential. In this way, recertification for both or all credentials may occur with the same application, most or all of the same education (depending on the credential) and date. I also acknowledge that I may be gaining time or losing time by the expiration date change.

I understand that changing an expiration date may possibly shorten the time I have to accrue continuing education, and no extensions of time or grace period will be granted. Recertification will be due on the new expiration date. (It may be beneficial to delay your date changes if you are in danger of not meeting your obligation of recertifying by the expiration date.)

A new certificate will be sent to you upon expiration date change.
